Northern Ballet

THE GRAND THEATRE | BLACKPOOL

FREE* Workshop Session

for Library staff

'Bringing Stories to Life in Libraries'

through movement, music and sensory exploration

Work with artists from Northern Ballet and Blackpool Grand Theatre, and fellow Library practitioners, to share practice and develop new ways of exploring stories.

Using Northern Ballet's production of Little Red Riding Hood as a stimulus, you'll learn how Northern Ballet use music, movement and sensory items to bring stories to life.

You will share and develop ideas for your setting and will be given music and images to assist in delivering fun and lively storytelling events, encouraging families to play and learn together.

Wednesday 5th February 2020

1pm – 3pm

Brunswick Room, Blackpool Central Library

*This session is free of charge, but we ask that settings deliver one open session focussed on Northern Ballet's Little Red Riding Hood.

This workshop is offered on a first come, first served basis.

To express your interest and book your place, please contact josies@blackpoolgrand.co.uk